

Y.M.C.A. BLOW UP IN THIRD AND LOSE GAME

Elks Score Seven Runs On Loose Playing After Y.M.C.A. Had Good Lead.

Some very loose playing and some rather crude work on the part of the Y. M. C. A. lost them the game with the Elks on Tuesday evening, and Bunker took run from them and gave the Elks another on two very bad decisions at the home plate. Timmons in trying to stretch his long hit to left into a home run did their under Miller who never even tagged him but Bunker declared him out again in the third on a ball that went over Brackett's head. Sheehan came home, Palmer getting the ball and had Sheehan tagged two feet off the plate, but again Bunker was dreaming and said safe, the decision against Timmons meant a great deal to the Young Men and he was simply robbed of a home run.

With a three run lead in the third inning Marden, Palmer and R. Brackett figured in some pretty crude work which resulted in the Elks getting seven runs. Wright was bad in the out field, he started in left but was changed to center and was not much better there.

The Elks had their second string battery in Able and Miller and they were not as effective as Sarette and Dolben, the former playing in right field and Dolben playing on the bench. Hughes slipped up once but he made a wonderful stop in the fifth when he got a ball that shot through Sheehan and while on the run threw to first. It was a close decision many thinking that the ball beat out Brackett, but Sheehan called him safe.

The Game in Detail

FIRST INNING

The Elks were up and Hughes fled to Wright who muffed, but threw to second in time to get Hughes. Hanson was out to Palmer unmuffed, Swasey fanned.

R. Brackett was safe on Hughes' fumble, he was advanced to second on C. Brackett's sacrifice, Able in Swasey, Palmer fled to Sarette in right who held Brackett at second, M. Howard singled through Hughes, and Brackett scored, Remick was passed and Wright was thrown out by Sheehan, to Swasey.

SECOND INNING

Cragen led off with a single but was thrown out trying to steal second. R. Brackett to Howard, Sanfacon struck out, Sarette singled, Miller drew a pass but Sheehan fled to Timmons in center.

Marden hit to Swasey off first but he got mixed up with the ball and Marden beat him out, Leary singled to deep center and went to second when Cragen let it go by him. Marden scored. Timmons and one car and it called away from Hanson hit. He relayed the ball in through Cragen and Sheehan and Timmons slid under Miller and was safe to every body but Bunker, who declared him out. R. Brackett was thrown out by Able, C. Brackett bounded one off the plate and Miller threw him out at first.

THIRD INNING

Able had a pass and he was advanced to second on a short pass ball by Palmer, who then would have led him had he not thrown low to Howard. Hughes hit to Marden who fumbled, Hughes stole second, with two men on Hanson hit for three hits into left, Wright being slow in fielding the ball and Able and Hughes scored. Swasey hit along the foul line in left for a home run, Cragen singled, Sanfacon hit to Marden who instead of forcing Cragen at second which he had plenty of time to, threw low to first and both were safe, Cragen going to third, Sanfacon stole second and Sarette was passed filling the bases, Cragen was caught off third and run down, Leary getting the out, Sanfacon going to third on the play, Ralph Brackett stopped to talk it over and the home plate being unguarded, Sanfacon went home, Palmer getting there just too late. Miller fanned, Sheehan drew a pass and he started for second, Brackett threw to short Sarette off third, and Sarette started for home, Howard threw the ball low and it caromed off Leary's head over Brackett's head and Sarette was safe. Sheehan kept on coming and Brackett threw to Palmer who was covering the home plate and he had Sheehan a foot off the plate but Bunker said safe, Able singled but was thrown out at second, Brackett to Howard.

Palmer hit a liner to Hughes who did not have to stir, Howard was thrown out by Sanfacon who made a fine stop, Remick was thrown out by Hughes in Swasey.

Score, Elks 7, Y. M. C. A. 3.
FOURTH INNING

Hughes batted one to Howard and was out at first, Hanson popped a fly for R. Brackett, Swasey hit a fly over second that Wright, Howard or Marden might get, but it dropped safe. Cragen hit to Marden, the ball making a bad bound, Sanfacon struck out.

Wright singled, and went to second on Marden's sacrifice, Sanfacon to Swasey, he advanced on a short passed ball but Leary and Timmons fanned.

FIFTH INNING

Sarette walked, Miller singled over short, Sheehan hit to Wright who muffed the ball and Sarette scored, Able was hit and Hughes singled over right Miller and Sheehan. Able was thrown out trying to get to third on the play. Hanson was out for interference at the plate and Swasey fled to Timmons in left.

R. Brackett then to Hanson, C. Brackett singled the ball being too hot for Sheehan, and was called by Hughes who made a fine throw to first, Palmer hit to Sheehan who forced C. Brackett at second. Howard was walked, Palmer stole third, Remick walked and the bases were full. Wright hit for a single to left, scoring Palmer and Howard was held at third, Wright without looking went on to second and that base being full he had to start back and he was out, Hanson to Able in Swasey.

Canteloupe King Herzog has Been Warming the Bench Redently, but is Likely to be Again in Line up

New York, July 23.—Charlie Herzog, who usually plays third base for the Giants and who also robs canteloupes on his Maryland farm has recently suffered a batting slump, and Manager McInnis has been letting him warm the bench. Herzog's average for the season is .283, which is not bad, but Shaffer is batting above .300, so he has been shifted to the third sack while Herzog rests and recovers his batting eye. Herzog is one of the sluggers, nearly one half of his hits being for extra bases. He is also fast on the bases as his record of thefts will show.

FIFTY PEOPLE KILLED AS FLAMES SWEEP CLOTHING FACTORY

been responsible for a part of the loss of life. But persons who were early at the scene, say that these things did not materially affect the result.

When the firemen came in response to the telephone alarm they were unable to get within 200 feet of the burning building and the ends of the streams from their hose were turned into steam and had no more effect upon the fire than a spray of vapor upon a volcano in action.

Life Nets Are Useless

Life nets and ladders were useless. There was no chance of escape for those caught on the upper floors, except the chance of jumping and this many took, while others fell, shivered and crumpled with the heat. Scarcely one of the survivors was able to give a connected account of what occurred on the upper floors of the factory when the employees there, mostly women and girls, realizing that the fire was no false alarm and that death was sweeping down upon them, The contest among them, recalled that women panted by the dozen, and that a scene of indescribable confusion occurred. Some of the most employees seem to have kept their heads and to have done their best to rescue the imperiled women.

Fire Escape Quickly Jammed

The fire escape was not big enough to hold all who rushed madly to the exits and there was a scramble for the windows. Then from the windows and the escapees bodies began dropping. They fell quick and fast. The building was but four stories high and many who jumped, even from the lowest floor escaped with their lives, although most of them were badly injured. It was on the fourth floor that most of the women operators were working, and it was among these that the loss of life and injury was greatest. Much difficulty was encountered in compiling even a partial list of the dead and injured tonight because the roster of employees was kept in a safe, which is buried beneath the ruins. Some select features of the catastrophe were brought out in a statement by Fred H. Freeman, president of the company, which operated the burned factory.

"I was in the office when Mrs. Freeman called to me that there was a fire," said Mr. Freeman. I ran out on the main floor and saw flames coming out from the open stairway in the center of the first floor. Some of our employees are so addicted to the cigarette habit that smoking being forbidden in the building, they went out into the alley every hour or so for a puff. I believe that one of these on returning to his work, threw the butt of his cigarette under the stairway.

"I called to Puller the shipping clerk. He came with a pail of water and threw it on the flames. Other men came running with buckets from the second floor and threw water on the fire. It seemed to have no effect. Just over the place where the fire started was a shelf on which lay several pieces of heavy plush, highly inflammable. This caught and there was a roar of flames.

"The fire going then began to clang the sound echoing throughout the factory. At this time the flames had begun to sweep throughout the ground floor like a flash. Mrs. Freeman and I just managed to get out of the front door when the whole building was aflame.

"As we ran out into the street the bodies of girls began to drop from the upper floor windows. They seemed more like sacks of flour than human beings. I saw three girls jump from windows.

"It being a comparatively warm day all the doors and windows were open and this provided a terrible draft. Of the 20 per cent of foreigners employed, some were Italians, some Polish and some Jews, but the great majority of the victims were Americans. Some of them had been with us 21 years.

If the facts ever become known I believe it will be found that the heads of the department's showed splendid heroism in sticking to their posts and directing the girls. Under the rules of the fire drill they were so instructed and I believe that all stayed at their posts, some to perish in the flames.

"I am of the firm belief that even one of the fire laws was complied with. It is not true that the floors were covered with lint and other inflammable material. They were all kept carefully swept and the only inflammable things in the building were the piles of garments.

The fire, besides destroying the Binghamton Clothing Co., buildings spread to the Federal building, burning the roof of that structure and damaged the building of the McKelley Drug Co., Simon O'Neil and the Binghamton Motor Car Co., on Water street. Christ church was also scorched. The total money damage, however, is not expected to exceed $100,000. The Federal building housing the postoffice, is badly wrecked. Interiors and the city's mail facilities are much hampered.

THE TURKS AGAIN TAKE ADRIANOPOLE FROM BULGARIANS

Constantinople, July 22.—In anticipation of the reconquest of Adrianople by the Turkish troops, Hadji Adli Bey, formerly Minister of the Interior, has been given the appointment of Governor and will leave today for Adrianople to assume the post.

It was officially announced here today that Turkish troops, commanded by Enver Bey had entered Adrianople this afternoon, and that Kirk Killiseh also had been occupied today by the Turks.

London, July 22.—Apparently conflicting reports as to the fate of Adrianople come from Sofia, and Constantinople. It appears, however, that the dispatch from the Bulgarian capital announcing that the Turks merely reconquered the position and then retired was sent out the night before the news of the entry of the Turkish troops had been received.

TURKS AT FIRST RETIRED

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 22.—The report of the reconquest of Adrianople by Turkish troops turns out to be false. It was spread by fugitive Bulgarian officials from that city, who, when they heard that a reconquering force of Turkish cavalry commanded by the notorious Enver Bey, had been seen in the vicinity, had ineffectually, under the belief that the entire Ottoman Army was about to descend on the place. Communication has been restored between the Bulgarian capital and the citadel of Adrianople, and official reports from the Bulgarian commander there show that the Turkish troops retired after reconquering the position.

The Bulgarian Government has ordered the seized civil functionaries to return to their posts, and similar instructions have been sent to Bulgarian officials who fled from various places in the Province of Thrace as soon as they heard reports of a Turkish advance.

CHIEF OF PEACE MISSION

Athens, Greece, July 22.—M. Panagis, Director of Political Affairs at the Greek Foreign office, has been appointed chief of the Greek delegation which will arrange terms of peace with Bulgaria. He started for Nish, Serbia, today, and will be joined on the way there by the other members of the peace mission.

RAILROAD NOTES

An official notice was sent out yesterday from the B and M. road, by Henry C. Robinson, superintendent of the southern division, announcing the fact that B. F. Williams was appointed chief train dispatcher of the division, F. N. Ward, having tendered his resignation.

B. F. Williams started his railroad career with the New York & New England road in the storekeepers department in 1898. After serving in several branches of the road, he went to the B and M in 1902, being connected with the motive power department of the southern division of the B and M. since joining that road.

A circular issued from the office of general manager Pollock of the Boston & Maine warns trainmen against the use of intoxicating liquors, and adds that the road will not tolerate anything in this line.

Boston & Maine freight and passenger rate schedules are being revised and the Interstate commerce commission will be asked to approve the new schedules which call for substantial increases. The commission, when the advanced rate schedule has been filed, will consult with the railroad or public service commissions of Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont and will have hearings jointly with the members of these bodies, at which the railroads will present the reasons why it should be allowed the increases.

Instead of conferring further with the railroad heads and representatives of the men to bring about a settlement of the dispute between the eastern railroads and their employees, the federal board of mediators are trying to get in touch with officials of the Erie railroad who have withdrawn from the conference. The mediators hope to be able to influence Erie officials to submit the men's demands for arbitration. W. G. Lee and A. J. Garretson, heads of the brotherhood of railway trainmen and the order of railway conductors have announced in the event the Erie continues in its stand, a strike will be called on that road.

JUDGE EMERY HATED PORTSMOUTH—DID NOT CLAIM RESIDENCE HERE

Boston, July 22.—Samuel Emery, for years prominent in politics in Portsmouth, N. H., county solicitor for Rockingham County, city solicitor and a judge of the Police Court there, hated the city, regarded it as "a miserable hole," quitted it in 1905 and took up his residence in Boston, according to the testimony of his widow, Mrs. Mary E. B. Emery, in the Supreme Court, today before Chief Justice Rugg, in proceedings relating to his will.

Mr. Emery was a lawyer, and from January, 1906, down to his death in November last, he had an office in this city. He left about $50,000. He was divorced from his first wife about 1882, and married his second wife, who is executrix of his will and chief beneficiary thereunder, in 1893.

She was appointed executrix by Judge Grant of the Probate Court, who allowed the will on her petition that the testator was domiciled in Boston. He died in Portsmouth. His son, Samuel, and his daughter, Margaret H. Emery Weeks and Margaret H. Emery, children of the first wife, who received $1 each under the will, seek to have the decree admitting the will to probate here vacated, on the ground that the could not had jurisdiction, because the testator was domiciled in Portsmouth, not in Boston, and the will ought to have been probated in Rockingham County.

The children contend that if the will were offered in that county they could produce evidence from witnesses living there tending to show that the testator was not of sound mind at the time the will was executed. They allege the Probate Court here allowed the will under misrepresentations that the testator was domiciled in Boston.

Evidence relating to the issue of whether the testator was domiciled in Portsmouth or in Boston is being heard by Chief Justice Rugg.

It appeared that Mrs. Emery stayed for months at a time in the Portsmouth house, which, she said, was ideally situated as a summer residence. Mr. Emery came back and forth from Portsmouth to Boston since 1905. In the winter he had apartments at different places, where she could stay off and on. She liked Portsmouth, where her associations were. She had lived with Mr. Emery in Regent Circle, Brookline, the Cantabury and in Beacon street.

He wanted her to come to Boston to live. She went to Winchester, Brookline and Boston in search of a residence, but could not find one that suited her like her Portsmouth home.

When she was at Portsmouth Mr. Emery usually went there every night and returned in the morning. Repeatedly he complained of Portsmouth and urged her to leave it. He regretted that he hadn't left it long before he did. She said he resigned his various offices there in January, 1906, and came to Boston for the purpose of making his home there. He advertised his Portsmouth place for sale, but didn't dispose of it.

She said he usually brought sweets home Saturdays, but she bought some, too, in Portsmouth, fearful that he might forget to bring any. On Sunday, if she or her sister passed him the box containing the Portsmouth candy, he would put it aside and ask for the box he brought up from Boston. Even the fruit brought in Portsmouth he didn't care for, remarking that good fruit could be got in Boston only.

He told her it was a pleasure to practice in the Massachusetts courts. He said there was so much more dignity in the courts in Boston, and he came in contact with a different class of men. When they went to California, she said, he registered at different hotels as coming from Boston.

THE ELKS ENTERTAIN THEIR BALL TEAM WITH BANQUET

The Elks baseball team which won the Sunset League championship were tendered a banquet at the Elks Home on Tuesday evening by the Purple Plinks, a social organization of the Elks. They were the hosts of not only the baseball team but a good number of the Elks and they proved to be very much on the job.

The banquet was served at 8.30, and the baseball team with Manager Jack Kelley were given the place of honor, and the Home Chef provided a very fine banquet.

During the evening there was good music and it developed into one of the genuine Elks socials, and at the end the Purple Plinks were awarded honors as entertainers. Each guest was presented with a purple plink before the banquet.

DISTRICT COURT

Harry Low was arraigned before Judge Torrey in District Court, on Tuesday afternoon, charged with breaking and entering the store of A. O. Benfield on Austin street. He entered a plea of not guilty and on the testimony of Thomas Mitchell and Everett Marston he was held for the October term of court, in $200 bonds.

The two boys under age were arraigned in Juvenile Court and held for the upper court.

Julius Gough, was arraigned charged with buying old metal from boys. He pleaded not guilty but on the testimony of the boys he was fined $5 and costs taxed at $10.15.

FOREST NOTES

A shingle mill in Maine uses 2,000 cords of paper birch each year in the manufacture of toothpicks.

The new Chinese republic has established a department of agriculture and forestry. For a long time China had been pointed out as the most backward nation in forest work.

A toy company at Shohoygan, Wn., started out to use only the waste wood from other mills. It has worked out a system of using all small waste pieces so that practically nothing but the sawdust is lost.

Austria not only sells timber but timber products from its forest lands, and disposes of about 1,500,000 rail-ways ties a year. There is no provision in the United States by which the national forests can dispose of manufactured lumber, though the policy of selling standing timber is well established.

The Canadian government has supplied twenty-five million free seedlings to farmers, principally in the Alberta and Regina plains region. The United States does not supply young trees to the public, except in a limited area in Nebraska, under the terms of the Kinkaid Act.

TIME MAKES GREAT CHANGES

Somewhat over a half-century ago, when everybody in Portsmouth, as well as almost everywhere else, was stirred with the events attending wars and rumors of wars, there were some who took especial interest in affairs and made themselves somewhat prominent among their fellow townsmen. But where are they now? Once in a while one or another comes back in person for a review of the scene of their young manhood, to find, alas! that no more do they see the old familiar faces or hear the old ring of the halcyon of those days. They find a new tone and new music which they cannot recognize as the refrain of their old time music, and Portsmouth of today brings no response to the natural longings for sympathy and appreciation. We are thinking now of one who in all the past fifty or more years has not been here to follow the changes that have been constantly taking place. The boys and young men of 1860 all knew and gladly hailed Dr. Frank Fuller as especially the man among them for any public occasion or private function. He was very active in his care and attention towards the Second N. H. Regiment, when it was being recruited in this city. It was his especial care to attend to the wants of the boys in camp, and to keep them in good physical and moral condition. They all recognized him as their guardian spirit and much of their excellent health and soldierly bearing came from his faithful performance of the duty that was thus assigned to him. The doctor was ubiquitous. You would find him on hand and doing active work whenever there was a call for some leading spirit in any of the social and public affairs of his day. It was his habit and disposition. And this disposition has attended his life work ever since. It drew the attention of President Lincoln, and made the two men intimate friends, friendship that began when young Robert Lincoln was a student at Phillips Exeter Academy. He was under the special care of Dr. Fuller; and when the doctor was traveling west he was recognized by Mr. Lincoln who was then a candidate for the Presidency, and was cordially taken into his home and family circle.

Afterwards the doctor was brought into position in the territory of Utah and was for a time its acting Governor. He had known many public men both among the statesmen and those otherwise prominent in affairs. He introduced Mark Twain into public notice in New York, and has made himself quite well known in that great city, where for many years he has been doing business, especially as the head and front of the Health Food Association. He has been one of the kind of men who cannot keep still, and is now a fine specimen of a virile man at the advanced age of 88 years.

Well, the doctor is just now on a visit to the scenes of his early life and is trying to find here some of the old associates and associations of his younger days. But alas!

Our Friendship in the South.

If the United States is to undertake rehabilitation of the finances of Nicaragua and assist in the pacification of that nation, it is obvious that it must be permitted to exercise at least an effective censorship over those activities of the government which might lead to collision with foreign powers, the unnecessary depletion of the treasury and the non-fulfillment of contractual obligations. For the accomplishment of these essential purposes the treaty advocated by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan is designed, and the clauses devoted to them appear to be adequate. It is obvious that the United States should oppose the construction of a canal from the Pacific to the Atlantic outside of their control. The objections to such a work are commercial, political and military. The possibility of competition in this matter is treated in the Nicaraguan treaty with good sense. Likewise, provision is made in this compact for solving new military and naval problems that will arise with the opening of the Panama canal. —New York Sun.

Awaiting the New Tariff.

Upon the day when the new tariff goes into effect, provided there should be no radical departure from the outlined schedules, there will be a rush upon the bonded warehouses of New York City such as was hardly equalled even when the bars were let down for the Oklahoma land-stakers. Already the anticipation of that instrument has very decidedly affected our commerce. There are fifty-six big warehouses in the city, and each one is taxed to its utmost capacity by the world products stored there. There never before was such a congestion of imports. It is estimated that about four-fifths of all the goods in bond of all the ports of the United States are located there and they are valued at $70,000,000. But this does not include working stock subject to the order of the big industrial plants, that cannot await the final issue of tariff legislation, and which swells the amount to about a round hundred millions. —Boston Transcript.

Hope It Will Result in Good.

For the second time in the history of the Portsmouth navy yard, it has received a visit from the house naval committee and several of the members of that body openly expressed themselves as greatly pleased with what they saw at the yard in equipment, as well as the many natural advantages possessed by our yard. The committee have been here and seen for themselves and can now act intelligently upon any measure that is introduced for the benefit of the Portsmouth navy yard. We earnestly trust that their visit will be productive of good and we shall get the work that rightfully belongs to this station.

Ambassador Wilson Should Have Been Hurried Aboard a War Ship.

If the presence of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson of Mexico was urgent in Washington why not a fast man-of-war to rush him to Washington? The country is not pleased with the way the Mexican situation is being handled and now the officials will be obliged to wait for Mr. Wilson to sail from Havana for New York on a slow, regular steamer.

The Reappointment of Mr. Morrison.

The reappointment of Henry C. Morrison as State Superintendent of Schools, by the Governor and council, has called forth praise from the press of the state. Mr. Morrison has made an excellent record and the people of the state, regardless of party, demanded his continuance in office. Politics should not interfere in such positions.

Mr. Mellen's Successor—What Would Please New Hampshire.

New Hampshire would like to see Edgar J. Rich president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, and the mention of his name in that capacity has been especially pleasing to those who recognize his ability. He would certainly make good.

Just Calling Attention to "Fitz."

Chairman Vail informed Mr. Fitzgerald in diplomatic terms that the New Haven officials did not consider the position political and therefore did not need his advice. "Fitz" won his point once more in calling attention to "Fitz."

The Three "I's."

A good many boys who would do well in their three R's don't get a chance, police records here show, because of their parents' three I's: Ignorance, indifference and incompetency. —Detroit News.

Teaching Children to Take Care of Themselves Amid Perils That Surround Them In a Big City.

The Safety League of the American Museum of Safety, in which a number of wealthy philanthropists, including Andrew Carnegie, are interested, has widened the scope of the practical work in which the museum is engaged in New York city under the direction of William H. Tolman. Heretofore the activities of the league have been confined chiefly to talks and pictures. In the accompanying illustration is shown a teacher demonstrating to children, with the aid of a model of a street car, the proper way for a person to board and to alight from such a vehicle. The instruction given by the league in the protection of life and limb is receiving wide commendation.

THE BOY WHO SAVED THE GAME

When we had a game today!
All our club played fine,
And the other fellows, too,
Had a bully time.

They was leadin' by two runs
When our side went in
For the last half of the ninth,
With our chance to win.

First man up struck out; the next
Hit 'em out to first;
Then one went out on a fly,
An' things looked their worst.

Next man, though, got safe away
Which made two on base;
Then 'twas my turn at the bat,
An' this was the case:

Two on bases and two hands out
An' three runs to make,
Tell you standin' at the bat
Kind-a made me shake!

But the ball came whizzin' by
An' I caught it square,
Way out past the center field
Sent it sailin' fair.

An' the gang let out a yell
Fit to split the dome,
As I went a-tearin' round,
Aflakin' all three home.

RESIDED HERE FOR A TIME.

The Herald of today gives an account of the residence in the United States of Louis Phillips, afterwards King of France. It might have added that he visited Portsmouth at that period. The "Rambles about Portsmouth"

CURRENT OPINION

In the last few years there has been a tendency to abandon the attempt to define education in terms of knowledge of specific subjects. We have revised our thinking. We are now challenging school subjects on the basis of what they contribute toward getting the world's work done. Broadly speaking, the world's work is concerned with three fundamental problems, namely, production, distribution and consumption. Everybody, to a greater or less degree, is both producer and consumer. We now conceive the problem of education to be the production of intelligent producers and consumers.

Consumption in this connection should not be interpreted too narrowly. Intelligent consumption has to do with questions of taste, intelligent judgment in affairs of the home and state, and a conscious purpose to choose the good rather than the bad. Consumption, then, involves the wise expenditure of leisure time. In a sense, so-called liberal education is a training for intelligent consumption and should go hand in hand with specific training for intelligent production. We have come to believe more and more that sound thinking leading to the formation of correct judgments and choices must proceed on the basis of experience. Few have the philosophic mind that can make broad and accurate generalizations far removed from experience. In our complex social life, education for children of elementary and high school age must be revised so as to provide adequate experiences on the basis of which intelligent citizenship can be developed. —W. I. Hamilton, Agent of the Massachusetts State Board of Education.

Tell us that he with his two brothers, the sons of the Duke of Orleans, came to the William Pitt hotel on Court street (then Pitt street) and applied for accommodations, but the hotel was full and seeking quarters elsewhere they went to the residence of Governor Langdon, where one of the Governor's descendants, Hon. Woodbury Langdon, has now made for himself an elegant and delightful home. Years afterward, Mrs. Olwin, the wife of Dr. N. W. Olwin, had an introduction at Paris to the King, who asked her: "Is the pleasant mansion of Governor Langdon still standing?"

COMING POSTAL CHANGES

A coming postal change that is announced is the disappearance of the likeness of McKinley from the postal cards and the substitution of that of Jefferson. The explanation given by the postmaster general of the reason for it is scarcely satisfactory. He pronounces one of the changes decreed by the election of 1912. Jefferson was well enough in his day and his acquisition of Louisiana entitles him to lasting credit, enough for postal card remembrances certainly. But announcement of a policy of merely political changes on postal stationery is going a little far, and will help a good deal the return of the day when the majority shall again rule the United States.

5, in a game of 13 innings. Giff of to center, scoring Baxter, who had reached first on E. McKeon's error.

Morando, the Rock Ridge and former good fielding, being the pivot in two fast double plays. Elwell and Shan-

NO PATROL WAGON FOR CHILDREN

Boston, July 22.—Patrol wagons will no longer be used to carry unfortunate children to station houses when there are no charges preferred against them, according to the action taken today by the M. S. P. C. C.
The executive committee of the society held a meeting today, and one of the matters taken up was the use of the patrol wagon in backing up to the doors of schoolhouses in Somerville to take away children alleged to be neglected.

It was the first meeting of the committee since the incident occurred, and so much agitation has been heard as a result of it that the committee voted that in cases in which it is necessary to bring children to court on complaints of agents of the society, the organization furnish at its own expense a private carriage whenever the local police authorities would otherwise be compelled to use a pa-

MEXICAN SITUATION IN A VERY SERIOUS WAY

President Wilson Giving It Careful Attention--Present Government Tottering.

Washington, July 22.—The regular cabinet meeting stated for today was not held because at the last moment it was discovered that most of the secretaries were out of town. President Wilson denied himself to callers and remained in his study taking up State Department reports and papers on the Mexican situation and considering the proposed Nicaraguan treaty. Changes in the plans of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, now hurrying north from Mexico City so that he will continue from Havana to New York by sea instead of landing at Key West and proceeding thence by rail to Washington are expected to make a day's difference in the time of the ambassador's arrival. The conference at which Mr. Wilson is to lay before the President and Secretary Bryan a first-hand report of the situation in Mexico, upon which some important developments may be based probably will not take place before Saturday.

President Denies Talking
So delicate is the Mexican situation considered in official circles that the White House issued the following statement last night to clear up misrepresentation:

"On his attention being called to the following statements appearing in certain afternoon newspapers: First, that the President had stated that he would not recognize the Huerta Administration and that it would not have a seat; second, that the President had stated that this country would establish a protectorate over all Central American countries to guard the Panama Canal. Secretary Taft today stated there was absolutely no foundation in truth for either of the above statements and emphatically denied that the President had expressed any opinion today or at any other time regarding the Huerta Administration or its stability, or stated any intention as to its recognition."

"This statement alone, however, is impressive evidence of the seriousness with which the Wilson Administration regards the situation in Mexico. It was the fear of the possible evil effects which the remark attributed to the President might have on the tottering Huerta Government that led to this formal disclaimer from the White House."

Huerta a Murderer, Says "Alfalfa Bill."

Representative William H. Murray of Oklahoma, well known as "Alfalfa

Bill," introduced an elaborate set of resolutions today in which he invites the Senate to concur, directing intervention in Mexico, if order and peace are not restored within thirty days after President Wilson has issued a proclamation to that effect. Murray's resolution characterizes Provisional President Huerta as a "murdering murderer," and his regime as "founded upon treachery, duplicity and murder."

DANIEL WEBSTER BIRTHPLACE CELEBRATION ON AUGUST 28 1913, AT FRANKLIN, NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Notice is hereby given of the above celebration of the restoration of the house in which Mr. Webster was born on January 18, 1782, in Salisbury, now a part of Franklin, about two and one-half miles west from that city. The work of restoration has been done in the name of the Webster Birthplace Association, and a visit to the farm of about 150 acres, the small birthplace house and the later and larger old fashioned residence close by, will fully repay visits by railroad and highway and especially by automobiles.

The Northern Railroad from Franklin to Grafton was opened on the 28th of August, 1847, and Mr. Webster attended and made an address at Grafton; and the exercises on August 28, 1913, to recall the career and patriotic services of Mr. Webster will, it is believed, be worthy of the occasion. A program will be published shortly.

Remarks will be made by officers of the Association, Governor Samuel D. Parker will speak for the State and Honorable Samuel W. McCall for Massachusetts. Representation has been requested from Dartmouth College, the Empire State and some Southern States, and President Wilson has been asked to come over from his cottage at Cornish.

The officers of the Association now request immediate preparation for a full attendance by local organizations not only in New Hampshire and Massachusetts but everywhere north and south where the citizens of the present generation appreciate and admire the great qualities of Daniel Webster.

SUPPLY SHIP IS WRECK

St. John's, N. F., July 22.—A projected voyage to Hudson Bay by the sealing steamer Beothic was stopped yesterday when the steamer ran ashore at Point Rich on the north-west coast of Newfoundland. It is feared that the Beothic with her large cargo, some of it consigned to officers and departments of the Canadian Government in the Far North, will be a total loss. Point Rich, where the accident occurred, is near the western entrance to the strait of Belle Isle.

The Beothic set out from Halifax four days ago on the voyage, which was expected to cover 2200 miles, most of it through ice seas. Port Nelson, the future terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, was the ultimate destination of the steamer and a large quantity of food supplies, of coal, building materials and machinery was being carried to this now isolated spot. Unless a relief ship is chartered, the absence of this food may mean suffering to those at Port Nelson.

The Canadian Government had also sent by the Beothic shipments of coal and food for use by the survey ship Arendt, now at Port Churchill, and for the use of several branches of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police.

precisely the same idea that you have expressed."

To this letter Mayor Fitzgerald replied that it was his desire to present to the committee the opinion of the average Boston citizen's opinion as to the selection of the new president, and that Boston was vitally interested because of the New Haven road's control of the local transportation system. In conclusion the mayor said:

"I think the courtesy that would be shown by the members of the committee in coming to Boston and being willing to listen to representative business men, as well as the mayor of the city, which would be only a question of a few hours, would be very much appreciated, and I am sure that it would do a great deal of good."

The New Haven road it was learned yesterday, plans to spend about $1,000,000 in equipping the locomotives on its lines with the super-heated devices. The locomotives about 350 in number, will be overhauled at the rate of five a month.

A general meeting of the stockholders of the New Haven has been called for August 22, to authorize $67,525,400 twenty year 6 per cent debentures. For the meeting, books close August 12, and reopen August 22. Debentures will pay interest semi-annually, and may be converted at any time between 1918 and 1928 at the rate of one share of stock for each $100 debenture. Sufficient capital stock to provide for the conversion of all the debentures will be voted on.

If they can to authorize $67,525,400 six per cent convertible debentures is approved by the stockholders August 22, the company will offer to stockholders the right to subscribe for convertible debentures will have the right to subscribe at the same rate as if they had converted their debenture into stock. This holders of the 3 1-2 per cent debentures convertible into stock between Jan. 1, 1911, and January 1, 1916, will have the right to subscribe for new convertibles at the rate of $100 of principal of such new debentures for each $450 of 1-2 per cent of the 3 1-2 per cent debentures.

Holders of the outstanding 6 per cent debentures convertible into stock between January 15, 1924, and January 15, 1928, will have the right to subscribe to new debentures at rate of $100 to the new to $300 of those outstanding.

President Mollen said yesterday: Proposed issue of converted debentures will provide for maturing indebtedness of $10,000,000 December 1, $5,000,000 Feb. 1, balance to complete electrification to New Haven, for new steel passenger car equipment, and other necessary improvements such as elimination of grade crossings ordered by competent authority.

Mrs. Timothy H. Bishop of New Haven, Conn., accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. Watcott Thompson, and children of Salt Lake City have arrived at Panamaway Inn, York City for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sandford are spending a week at Canaan, N. H.

COALING STATION AT LAMOINE USELESS

Bar Harbor, Me., July 22.—The Presidential yacht Mayflower arrived from the westward and spent several hours in Frenchmen's Bay today. The abandoned Government coaling station at Lamoine was inspected for an hour during the morning by the members of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, who are cruising on the yacht, after which they came here and were entertained with driving about Mount Desert and motoring in the bay. They planned to return direct to Washington when they left at noon.

The opinion was expressed by members of the committee that the coaling station at Lamoine is perfectly useless and that in the first place there was absolutely no need of a Government station at that point.

NEW CASTLE

These are perfectly marvelous July days. Lowell did say something about June, but this is July. This is our real normal New Castle summer weather. Overpowered by the malign influences of the rest of the country she went astray for a little while but she has in the most becoming fashion atoned for her fall from grace and is again the most healthful summer resort in America.

After a week's sojourn with relatives, Mr. Welcome Maxim has returned to his home in Springfield.

The J. H. S. Circle of King's Daughters of the Congregational church will hold its annual delightful mid-summer festival on August 6 and 7. It is safe to assume that it will be a bigger success in point of attraction and attendance than the previous years.

Mr. Fred Tibbets of Boston, who has been visiting relatives, has been called to Boston by the serious illness of his mother.

Miss Rosa Osgood and Mr. True Osgood of Suncook are stopping at the Fort cottage.

Mrs. Frank Dearborn of Portsmouth is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Tarlton.

Captain Redford Sargent and family of Philadelphia have arrived to pass the summer with Mr. Ephraim Urich and family.

Mrs. Lydia Grogan has returned from a several months' sojourn with her children in Boston.

Mrs. Francis Tibbets and children of Spectacle Island, Boston, are the guests of Mrs. Sarah White.

Mrs. Lizzie Garland of Haverhill is a guest at the Veaton cottage. Mrs. Elizabeth White has returned from a brief visit in Portland.

LOCAL TEACHERS JUST AS ATTRACTIVE

We clip the following item from the Tuxedo Florida Herald of July 18:

"Miss Susie Lambert, a beautiful young lady school teacher of Spurr, paid her respects to The Herald Saturday. She was looking over the teachers' situation here. She is a young lady of bright and pleasing appearance, and if she had been a 'typist' she'd had a job, if it had cost a divorce suit."

GOOD SHOOTING AT WAKEFIELD

Wakefield, July 22.—A new event, the McGregor two-men team match at 600 and 1000 yards, appeared on today's card at the annual tournament of the New England Military Rifle Association, on the Wakefield range. The other events were individual contests and included the Tanner match at 600 yards, the Winchester match at 1000 yards and the Gen. Abbott match at 200 yards, surprise fire.

The main topic of conversation today by those who were not actually shooting was the wonderful record established yesterday by Capt. Stuart W. Wise, when he made 103 consecutive bullseyes at 800 yards. The previous record was 57 yards made by J. W. Hession at Sea Cliff, N. J., last year.

The Tanner match today, which was for men who had never won a state, interstate or National prize, was captured by seaman E. A. Hartung, U. S. N., with a possible score of 50. Other scores were: Private C. H. Martin, U. S. M. C., 49; private J. S. Stewart, U. S. M. C., 48; Corp. H. Austin, U. S. M. C., 48; Corp. F. Ladd, U. S. M. C., 47; Lieut. G. H. Bowdley, U. S. N., 47; Corp. R. LeClair, U. S. N., 47.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR PROJECTS OF INTEREST TO ALL

To forward practical New England agriculture is the policy of Rockingham Fair at Salem Depot, N. H. Nothing will do more for better farming than liberal awards of prizes for the best specimens of stock and agricultural products of all kinds adapted to a locality. The affect of well conducted agricultural affairs on the farming of a community is understood and appreciated by the great farming states of the west which make liberal appropriations for premiums on agricultural products and stock. The opportunity for agriculture in the East is being more and more appreciated as the free land of the country is occupied. Measured by quality of products, by their quality per unit of area, for their price per unit of measure, New England farms are superior to the lands of any other section. This can be demonstrated in no better way than a competitive exhibition of farm products and is the basis upon which Rockingham Fair is organized and conducted.

For this reason the liberal appropriation for prizes is allotted to exhibits of stock and farm products adapted to New England soils and climate and demanded for New England consumption. The seven breeds of cattle on which prizes are given are admittedly the standard breeds, Short Horns, Devons, and Herefords for half-breeds.

The consumption of poultry and the opportunity for profitable poultry raising in New England give this department especial prominence and although late August is not the best time for showing poultry, great effort is made by offering special prizes, the widest publicity and personal solicitation to make the poultry show the biggest and best in the East. To also all departments are fostered by liberal special awards and recognition by the fair itself and by friends who offer special prizes for the things in which they are most interested. The policy of the fair in encouraging their rearing of the best cattle is worthy of note. More money is offered for oxen and beef stock than by many state supported fairs in the best raising states.

Rockingham Fair is the first eastern exhibition to reach out for the farm boys, to interest them in up-to-date farming. Through the Pomona Grange fifty boys over fifteen years old have been selected to be guests of the fair during the entire week. The fair will pay their car fare and furnish free accommodations and meals for these boys on its grounds. The boys' camp will be under the management of competent agricultural instructors who will give daily lectures and demonstrations using the exhibits at the fair for illustration. The boys will be expected to lead cattle in the stock parade before the Grand Stands and during the day to act as guides and caretakers of exhibits. Their special duty will be to show and answer questions about the agricultural exhibits and to seek to interest the public in the agricultural exhibits. The only stipulation in the selection of these boys by the Pomona granges is that they be boys who actually live on farms.

Farmers and those interested in farming should appreciate the attitude of this fair in its effort to build up truly the biggest and the best agricultural exhibition in the East. Sports and amusements are part of a fair and are lavishly provided but not to the exclusion or at the expense of bona fide agriculture. Grand circuit racing assures a spread program that will interest farmers as well as others. But the point is that this shall be a balanced agricultural fair, with the farmer's end of it given its full place and not hatched on to give color to a racing meeting.

Rockingham Fair managed along these lines will be a positive service to New England agriculture and deserves to be what its promoters intend to make it. "The biggest show New England ever knew."

CAN'T GET RID OF MONEY

Mint and Assay Office Must Carry Ancient Credits

Unless the secretary of the treasury will assume the authority to dispose of the matter by some arbitrary action, there is no way to relieve the mint at San Francisco or credit due to individuals and never called for to the total amount of $613.10 or the assay office in New York of $189.93 ounces of silver bullion belonging to an outsider. The trust must otherwise stand the controller of the treasury, George D. Dawney rules, and the money or equivalent of the bullion cannot be turned into the general treasury.

Since 1856 there has been to the credit of H. J. Peters the amount of $127.87 on the books of the San Francisco mint, the value of gold bullion deposited. Joseph Baker has had $333.27 to his credit since 1858. And since 1853 there has been $151.95 to the credit of J. H. Souther at the same mint, in payment for bullion deposited.

Thomas E. Davis brought in his silver bullion in 1858. He wanted bullion in exchange for it. The bullion then valued at $1 an ounce, was credited to his account at $189.90. It is now worth only 40 cents an ounce. Controller decides that as the credits do not represent the debts owed by the United States they cannot be converted into the general treasury, in compliance with the law which provides that after three years certificates, warrants or checks issued by the treasury or distributing offices to liquidate debts of the United States and unpaid shall be returned to the treasury.—Washington Star.

BILL PRESENTED TO SEATTLE

Socialists Claim Damages for Wreck of Their Property by Sailors.

Seattle, Wash., July 22.—A committee of the moderate Socialists, whose headquarters in an old church were wrecked last Friday night, have presented an itemized bill of $568.75 to Mayor Cotterill and asked that the city pay it. The old church will be repaired and headquarters reestablished. The radical Socialists will against the city (total $2035). The Industrial Workers of the World found their losses much smaller than at first estimated. The sailors on the Pacific reserve fleet are said to have decided to take up a collection to compensate the Pacific Mission, whose chapel was partly wrecked by the sailors under the supposition that it was a reading room for the Industrial Workers. Out door meetings will be suspended until the excitement subsides.

PAY DEBTS OR BE DISCHARGED

If a person would hold his position in the War Department he or she must pay all honest debts. Secretary Garrison has so ordered. The position of the War Department is stated in a circular just issued. The paper reads:

"The War Department will take no cognizance of a debt complaint against an employee, so far as the creditor is concerned, beyond acknowledging receipt of his communication. Creditors and collectors will be denied access to employees for the purpose of presenting or collecting claims during the hours set apart for the transaction of public business. But while the Department will not permit itself to be used as a collection agency, employees who contract debts and then without sufficient excuse or reason neglect or avoid payment thereon, will be discharged."

CAVE UP HIS LIFE TO SAVE A CHILD

Buffalo, N. Y., July 22.—Desk Sergeant John C. Unley of the Lackawanna police force is dying today from injuries received when he swerved his motorcycle into the curb to avoid hitting several little girls.

In the absence of a reserve policeman last night Unley responded to an alarm of fire. He was traveling at a fast clip when the girls darted into the street, directly in his path. Unley swung his machine into the curb. It struck the stump of a tree and Unley was hurled against another tree, 20 feet away. His skull was fractured and his lungs were punctured by broken ribs. The fire loss was $5.

Unley a year ago was given a medal for saving three children from drowning.

OLD GRECIAN SCULPTURE FOUND IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Md., July 22.—A piece of Grecoan sculpture alleged to be 3000 years old and of priceless value and which is said to have been stolen fifteen years ago from the National Museum at Athens, was found by the local police here today. It is a bust of a female child of about five years, and was dug up in the cellar of Charles Nemphos, a Greek confectioner, at Hampden, an suburb. Search for the bust was instituted here yesterday following a visit of Dr. Alexander Vouras, the Greek charge at Washington, to the office of United States District Attorney Hill. To Major Hill was unfolded the story of the disappearance of this gem of early Grecoan art, of the efforts of European governments to recover it for the past decade and of clues involving a Baltimore Greek. Major Hill decided that it was not a case of smuggling, but a problem for the local police. Accordingly the case was laid before the state's attorney and on the basis of information furnished by Dr. Vouras a search warrant for Nemphos's home was issued.

Granted Insurance After Consumption

There are so many cases of consumption reported where the doctors show the disease started with a cold or cough that it is really surprising that people are not more anxious to immediately stop than apparently minor troubles. My advice is to stop the cough at once, if possible, without delay. If otherwise more serious troubles are likely to follow. If the medicines you are now taking do not bring relief, try Eckman's Alternative, as this man did.

237 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: I am giving you below a brief history of my rapidly falling condition at the end of six months my weight had fallen to 120 pounds. I was troubled with night sweats, a severe cough and was very weak, having in fact completely lost my ambition whatever. About this time I consulted a physician, who told me my lungs were affected. Not satisfied I went to another doctor, who after examining me said that I was in the first stages of consumption. At this point I started to take Eckman's Alternative. The night sweats stopped, my appetite returned, my cough became looser and gradually disappeared. My weight is now 142 pounds and my physician has pronounced me perfectly sound. I am very grateful for the fact that I have been accepted by two different insurance companies for insurance, makes me sure of my entire recovery. I am now able to do my work and am very glad to communicate with any one who would be interested in my case.

(Signed) A. J. W. B. 1912.

For Wednesday and Thursday

James K. Hackett, in "THE PRISONER OF ZENDA,"—Four Acts. A dramatic masterpiece of romance and adventure. Love and sacrifice, duty and desire, a vast, weird, yearning smothered by the breath of Right, a hero conquered, and a victory earned almost in the shadow of defeat. And desolation, the soul's solitude, mingled with the wandering made of the world, combined in a stupor production and enhanced by the vigorous emphasis of James K. Hackett's romantic art. More graphic, more comprehensive, more appealing than the original famous play. The tense story, combined with the imposing settings, and the luxury and splendor with which the characters are surrounded, make this a most remarkable production.

This picture will be shown at 2.30 in the afternoon, 7.00 and 9.00 in the evening.

His Crooked Career—Keystone. A burlesque comedy. Pressed by poverty, Schmaltz decides to adopt a career of crime, but what happens to him is a shame.

The Soul of a Thief—American. A vivid, dramatic feature in two reels. How the influence of love brought about the tragic reformation of a wily cracksmen.

Mr. John Mitchell sings: "The Last Rose of Summer" and "For You Alone." By request.

Matinee 2.30, Evening 7.00; Saturday evening, 8.30.

Remember "THE COOLEST PLACE IN TOWN" of Haven park when the police got him. Sam certainly picked out a conspicuous place for easy wheeling. In the future if he hits the sidewalk he won't do any fancy riding on the path-way of the park. It cost him five dollars today for looping the loop around the Fitz John Porter monument.

The case against the three small boys at the West End for breaking glass in the window of the North Church mission chapel on Bartlett street was not brought to court as the parents of the boys settled for all damages. The damage could not have been any small amount as several panes of stained glass were smashed. The boys were each less than nine years of age.

ORIENTAL DANCES.

Miss Ruth St. Denis Will Entertain Summer Colony at York Harbor.

August 12 and 13 are to be gala days at York, Me., for on the afternoon of the 12th and the evening of the 13th Miss Ruth St. Denis is to give her Oriental dances. These dances are famed the world over, and just at present Miss St. Denis is filling an engagement with the Chicago orchestra in Ravinia Park, Chicago, where to the accompaniment of the best made in America she exhibits her wonderful art.

At York she will have no orchestra, but she brings with her a remarkable pianist, a Russian girl who is one of Letichelski's pupils, and who not only plays for Miss St. Denis, but also plays between the dances.

Three distinctive dances Miss St. Denis gives, illustrative of the Japanese festivities, one a Temple dance before a god, one a flower dance, and one a jewel dance. Three Hindu dances she also gives, of fire, of snakes and of poetry.

As lovely as these dances are under the shade trees in the afternoon light they are even more mystic in the moonlight, aided by a carefully managed spot-light. This elaborate fête is to be for the York Historical and Improvement Society, and all information can be had by writing to P. O. Box 175, York Village, or telephoning No. 1, York. The patronesses are Mrs. John Hackett, Mrs. John Cadwalader, Mrs. George Cheney, Mrs. Endicott Dexter, Mrs. Charles Fox, Mrs. Charles Goodrich, Mrs. Bryan Lathrop, Mrs. Thacher Loring, Mrs. Percival Lowell, Mrs. Frank Rollins, Mrs. Newton Perkins, Mrs. Francis Sayles, Mrs. Gordon Wendell.

UNFORTUNATE MIXUP.

Stories Exaggerated of the Affair On the Playground.

After their unfortunate mixup on the playground on Tuesday evening a story quickly went the rounds that the police officer struck the sailor. This is absolutely untrue. Neither did the sailor attempt to strike the officer. He admits that he did not know who grabbed him, and in his attempt to pull away he fell and the police officer went with him.

The sailor Thomas Morris, at the police headquarters today declares positively that there were no blows struck either way and that he made no remark as to the police. It is the opinion of a lot of people at the game that Morris was not the man who made the remark and he tells a correct story to the police according to eye witnesses. It is evident that somebody did make the remark in the crowd that were leaving the grounds who only added fire to the flame. Morris who is a third class petty officer of the Portsmouth has a good record in the service and is popular among his shipmates. In his explanation today the sailor appeared to be decidedly sorry that such a mixup took place.

Officer Condon who made the arrest is a new member of the force and is considered a man of good judgment in his line of duty. Today the officer and Morris talked over the trouble and Condon allowed the benefit of a doubt in favor of the seaman as to who made the remark when they were leaving the grounds and the case was not pressed.

REVISING THE CENTRAL TRANSCONTINENTAL ROUTES

One of the cars on the Indiana-Pacific Tour, from Indianapolis to San Francisco and Los Angeles, is the Pathfinder "40" which crossed the continent three times last year, laying out long distance routes for the American Automobile Association, and also gathering data for the office of Public Roads, Washington. Owing to the rapid improvements in process at various points along the line, W. O. Westgard, field representative of the American Automobile Association, is taking new notes all the way from Indianapolis to St. Louis, Kansas City, Topeka, Colorado Springs, Denver, Salt Lake City, Reno, Carson City, Sacramento and San Francisco.

During the coming fall and winter, these routes will be put into the form of "strip maps," like the "Trail to Sunset" and the "Northwest Trail," and published early next year for the benefit of the increasing number of motorists who are making the cross-country trip to the Pacific coast. After completing the Indiana-Pacific tour, Mr. Westgard and the Pathfinder "40" will return to New York by way of San Diego, Phoenix, El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas, Memphis, Nashville, Bristol, Washington, Baltimore, and Philadelphia.

The latter will be the first All-Southern transcontinental route, and can be traveled when parts of all the other lines are interfered with by cold weather. It is expected that when the All-Southern route is mapped and available for general use, transcontinental tours will be made over it throughout the year, especially as it will provide a fairly good winter route between California and the Gulf of Mexico and through to the Florida east coast.

PORTSMOUTH THEATRE PROGRAMME

For Wednesday and Thursday

"A REGIMENT OF TWO"—Vita-graph. In two parts.

This is one great laugh from start to finish. Two gay husbands enlist in the 13th regiment to be sure of a "night off" once a week. All goes well until the regiment is ordered to the front. Featuring Mr. Sidney Drew and Miss Edith Storey. Don't Miss It. Act—Jack Boyce, singing comedian. A Great Metropolitan Newspaper—Edison.

This picture was taken by courtesy of the New York Herald. From it we gain some idea of the clock work precision which is necessary that we may enjoy our paper at the breakfast table.

Act—Fay & Miller, singing, talking and dancing.

The Dance at Eagle Pass—Kodak. A Western dramatic story. Unknown to everyone Scott is a gambler. He bets on the races and loses all his money, and he decides to rob the post office.

The Benefactor—Lubin.

A beautiful story in which a rich lesson is taught by a socialist. Marrying against his father's will, he disowns him. They try to make their own way in the great world. It takes a detective to solve it all out. A fine drama.
